Product Description

Product Description

PET is an unreinforced semi-crystallized pure material grade thermoplastic polyester profile, which is particularly suitable for manufacturing precision mechanical parts with high load and wear resistance. Compared with PA and POM, PET is harder and has better thermal properties, so it is processed differently.

PET natural color (bar, plate) for "food grade" engineering plastic profile.

PET comes in white and black, both of which meet FDA food standards.

PET White meets USDA, 3A- Dairy and Canada AG standards. PET is an excellent material for use in food processing and industrial equipment components.

Main features:

1. Mechanical strength, stiffness and hardness
2. Very good creep resistance
3. Low and stable friction coefficient
4. Excellent wear resistance (as good as or even better than PA material)
5. Very good dimensional stability (better than POM)
6. Excellent anti-fouling ability
7. Better acid resistance than PA or POM
8. Good electrical insulation performance
9. Physiological inertia (suitable for contact with food)
- 10 Good resistance to high energy radiation (gamma- and X-ray)
